Christmas is a time of giving as we celebrate the special gift of Jesus Christ. In the spirit of the season, we ask you to prayerfully consider bestowing a special Christmas gift to our programs.

Different programs you can support include;

Religious Education - It is our Religious Education program that helps us to live & share our Catholic faith through the integration of academics, moral values, spiritual growth and pray. Includes OCIA (Adults), Sacramental Preparation (children/youth), Bible studies, prayer groups and Vacation Bible School.

Assistance Fund- This program disburses thousands of dollars annually to help the poor in our community. By providing food, gas cards and help with utility bills, we share Christ's love with our community.

Lighting Project - Next year we are planning on redoing our lights in the church - improving functionality, supporting energy savings and enhancing worship.

SJV Catholic School - By providing a quality Catholic education, regardless of ability to pay, St. John Vianney Catholic School helps to create faithful servants of Christ.

Rectory Improvement - Part of our call to service is to care for our priests. Improvements at the rectory provide a safe home for the priests who serve our parishes.

Snow Removal - Though we have had wonderful weather so far, keeping the parking lot and sidewalks clear and safe when it snows can add to our budget. We appreciate any donations to help defray the cost.

Kathy Reisenauer Endowment - We are blessed with an endowment to help ensure the continued success of St. John Vianney parish and school. By contributing to the growth of the endowment, you help secure the financial stability of our community.

Thank you for considering a special gift to the parish programs this Christmas.

Sunday Reflection

Friends, today we celebrate the Feast of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph. This feast in a very special way reminds us of something profoundly comforting; that is, God is not distant and He does not save us from afar. God enters our world through the most ordinary, familiar, and everyday reality; family. God could have come as a mighty warrior, a philosopher, or a king. Instead, He chose to come as a child in a home, with parents who loved Him, protected Him, and raised Him. This tells us something essential about God's heart; He draws near to us in the ordinary. He sanctifies what we often take for granted. The incarnation is thus God's way of saying; "I am with you in your daily life. I meet you in your home, your relationships, your struggles, your routines."

On this feast of Holy Family, it is very important to emphasize that family is not a human invention or a cultural trend. It is God's own institution, woven into creation from the beginning. It is a communion of love that springs from man and woman who come together in marriage, and it continues to spread through their children. In a world where secular voices sometimes treat family as optional, flexible, or purely self-defined, today's feast gently but firmly reminds us: Family is sacred because God Himself stepped into one.

At first glance, we might imagine the home of Jesus, Mary and Joseph as peaceful, serene, and untouched by the struggles that affect our own families. But the Scriptures today tell a very different story. We hear in the Gospel, that Joseph is awakened by an angel with terrifying news: "Rise, take the child and his mother, flee to Egypt." Imagine a young family forced to run for their lives in the middle of the night. No time to pack, and no certainty about the road ahead. They became refugees, strangers in a foreign land, living with fear, uncertainty, and poverty. And later when they return home only to discover that danger still lurks, and they must settle in Nazareth, a place with little honor or reputation. Their life was not picture-perfect. It was marked by upheaval, anxiety, and constant change. And yet, through it all, they remained united. Not because they had no problems, but because they faced every problem together with trust in God and love for one another. The Holy Family was holy not because life was easy, but because love guided them through every difficulty.

In the Second reading from the letter to the Colossians, Saint Paul gives us the blueprint for family life: "Put on compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience... And then he says, "Over all these, put on love." Love is the garment that holds everything else together. Paul uses the image of clothing, something we choose to put on every day. Love is not a feeling that comes and goes. It is a decision, a daily choice, a garment we intentionally wear. Family life is to be filled with Compassion when someone in the family is hurting, kindness when tempers flare, humility when pride wants the last word, patience when we are tired or frustrated, and forgiveness when wounds run deep. And then Paul says, "Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts." Not the peace that comes from everything going right, but the peace that comes from knowing God is with us even when everything goes wrong. This is exactly how the Holy Family lived. They "put on love" every day, on the road to Egypt, in the uncertainty of exile, in the quiet years of Nazareth.

It is needless to say that today every family knows what it means to face challenges, every family is a mixed bag; with complications but also blessings. Each family has financial struggles, illnesses, misunderstandings, aging parents, children finding their way, marriages tested by stress or silence. The Holy Family understood all of this. They are not distant icons; they are companions on the journey. And they teach us this truth; a family becomes holy not by avoiding problems, but by facing them with love and trust in God. Love in the family may not eliminate hardships, but it transforms them. It may not prevent conflicts, but it heals them. And it may not guarantee perfection, but it guarantees God's presence.

So today, as we honor the Holy Family, let us ask for the grace to "put on love" in our own homes: let this be shown through, a word of kindness instead of criticism. A moment of listening instead of reacting. A gesture of forgiveness instead of holding onto hurt. A prayer together instead of facing struggles alone. As the saying goes, "charity begins at home." May we always remember that family is where we first learn forgiveness, patience, sacrifice, and tenderness. It is where we first learn to love and to be loved. It is where God often speaks most quietly, but most powerfully. May our homes therefore become places where God is welcomed, where love is chosen daily, and where we discover that the same God who guided Mary, Joseph, and Jesus is guiding us too.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS SJV Pancake Breakfast

The SJV Knights of Columbus are hosting a Pancake Breakfast on Sunday, Jan. 4 after the 10 a.m. Mass. All donations benefit the many charities supported by the Knights. Enjoy a good breakfast and support local charities.

SCHOOL NEWS

As we start another year and reflect on the blessings of the past one, we are truly thankful for your prayerful support! We wish you many blessings in the new year!

THANK YOU!

A special "Thank You" to the volunteers who helped prepare the church for the coming of Christ. We are so grateful for your service!

Reconciliation and Confirmation/First Holy Communion classes resume next weekend, January 4, in the SJV School library at 11:15 a.m.

St. Paschal Altar Society & Knights of Columbus

The second Tuesday of each month the St. Paschal Altar Society (for women) and Knights of Columbus (for men) have separate meetings in the SP Rectory. Next meetings are Jan. 13. Altar Society meets at noon and Knights meet at 7 p.m. Come join these groups of women and men in service of Christ.
